

Go Dharmic Principles

Dharma is our innate nature, responsibility and duty. Just like the dharma of fire is to produce heat and light. The dharma of Humanity is to be humane. The GD principles are universal values that can enrich all human societies and through our campaigns, we wish to embody and promote them.

1. Love

Love is the most powerful force for good in our world. If we cultivate love within our hearts then we will naturally bring positive change into our societies. When we conduct our campaigns we do so with love for all. We do not discriminate between any community and promote love and universal acceptance.

2. Not harming

The proclamation that ahimsa (non-harming) is the highest dharma is an ancient one. As a community we walk a path which causes as little harm as possible, treading lightly upon the Earth care for every living being.

3. Compassion

Feel the suffering of others as your own. Whether it is feeding the poor, volunteering during a disaster, it is important to not see their suffering as different from our suffering. True compassion arises when we can be with them as one.

4. Charity

Charity means giving your time, talent and treasure to those who need it. We can open our hearts to ensure our help is effectively reaching the lesser fortunate members of our society.

5. Service

The Cultivation of selfless service and altruism are core to GD. We have thousands of volunteers who give up their personal time to serve others. As a service-based organisation we ask you to join us to make a difference by volunteering your time to help the needy by engaging in our various campaigns.

6. Peace

Peace and universal brotherhood should be promoted by all at GD. We do not discriminate when helping others and work for the well-being of all. Our campaign Peace Letters asks volunteers to write letters to leaders and influential people around the world to promote the understated value of Peace.

7. Truth

We want to be truthful to ourselves, our community, and our beneficiaries. As custodians of donations, it is our responsibility to ensure 100% of public money goes to the cause and that we ensure that the most vulnerable people we can find are served first.

8. Friendship

Developing communities of like-minded come together as friends who want to make a difference will ensure GD will have a long-standing impact globally. We must also cultivate friendship with our beneficiaries there should never be the feeling of giver and receiver but only of a friend helping a friend.
