ABOUT THE JOURNEY

Salt Ride 2025

On 12th March, 1930, 60-year-old Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi led dozens of his followers on a journey from Sabarmati Ashram to Dandi, in a peaceful protest against an archaic British 'Salt Tax' law.

Gandhi hoped to bring worldwide attention to the growing Indian independence movement, highlighting the injustice of Britain's colonial salt laws which forbade Indians from producing or selling their own salt.

The 'Salt March', also known as the 'Dandi March', began near Gandhi's religious retreat in Sabarmati Ashram. Over the course of 24 days Gandhi and his followers covered 384 km journeying to the coastal village of Dandi. Along the final stretch, crowds of thousands gathered to watch Gandhi and his followers deliberately break the crippling salt law by evaporating Dandi's seawater to make their own salt.

Where Gandhi walked for social justice, we will cycle for the environment. The Salt Ride gives you an opportunity to retrace Gandhi's historic journey, cycle the route raising funds for Go Dharma's environmental campaign, and discover the real India: its rural culture, spirituality, and history.

The spiritual value that one can obtain by taking on this immersive 7-day experience is priceless and invaluable. We will ride approximately 440 KM, experiencing the hidden wonders of India, whilst working to protect against the greatest threat of the 21st century – the Climate Crisis.

"Village India is real India."

Mahatma Gandhi

WHY ARE WE DOING THIS?

The Salt Ride was conceptualised by Hanuman Dass, the founder of Go Dharmic, in 2018, as an initiative to connect Mahatma Gandhi's practical philosophy of ahimsa (non-harming) with the protection of our environment. Gandhi used the principle of non-harming as a tool for social change, so why can't we use this same principle to ground practical environmental action?

Help us raise funds and awareness for positive climate action by cycling for the environment this December. Your fundraising and action will help make a difference whilst discovering India!

WE PLAN TO

Plant 2 million trees at the Dharma Forest in the Sundarbans by 2026.

Grow our Ahimsa and the Environment Campaign where we create awareness and discuss implementable strategies grounded on the principle of non-harming as a way to reverse and protect against environmental damage.

Support a whole host of environmental projects, including: food distributions that reduce CO2 emissions from food waste, humanitarian disaster relief in locations affected by climate change, carry out advocacy work for dietary change and the reduction of animal agriculture, and environmental education in schools across India.

"Protecting our planet is the greatest social activism the world needs today. This is the dharmic work that is required. By cycling across Gujarat, following the journey of the 'Salt March' which helped create social change through non-violent civil disobedience, we carry on that method to resolve the environmental threat that faces the world today. Back then, people made salt. Today we need to plant trees, reduce our reliance on animals and fossil fuels. As individuals and collectives, we must consciously live and breathe the idea of non-violence towards the natural world."

"Flying GD's flag across Gujarat was a real honour! The values that Gandhi promoted and that are at the core of GD's mission - ahimsa, prema, seva - to me they were omnipresent throughout the trip. Within our interactions, within our dedication towards one another and the cause, within my thoughts..."

Paula Stei

"Everyone had a story to share, I truly have made some lifelong friendships! I still cannot get over the love and appreciation of all the individuals we have met along the way - no matter their circumstances we were welcomed with open arms."

Amber Parmer

"Old friendships have been rejuvenated, and new lifelong friendships created, no doubt! The extraordinary team spirit was undeniably the most visible throughout the event."

Pravina Mehta
